The Senate to Investigate the Condition of the Capitol-Senator Grady Makes His First Speech-Bills Introduced,

ALBANY, Jan. 18.—Albany has three fairs this week, and any number of pretty young women have been beseeching the Senators and Assemblymen for subscriptions. The Jackson Corps fair was the first, and so overpowered e the Senators by the solicitations of the Jackson Corps canvassers that the Senate adjourned to give the three pretty girls opportunity to sell chances on bedroom sets, boxes of elgars, clocks and cuspadores. With the canvassers for the fairs came the book agents. the are always with the Legislature. To-day the prettiest canvasser of them all appeared. She represented a new fair which is going on now. The entrance of this pretty girl demoral-ized the Assembly. Mr. Sheehan, leader of the Democratic minority, is a good-looking man, and young, too, though he has been here five years. He was so charmed with the pleasing expression in the girl's eyes that he took five chances in a patchwork criss-cross bed quilt at ten cents a chance. If the inundation of canvassers for fairs is not stopped the members will not be able to buy parlor car seats to take Capitol and to report what should be done about it, how much it would cost to finish it, and the best way to have the work done, came up for consideration. Senator Vedder suggested that the Senate should go ahead on its own account and investigate the Assembly colinax, as the Assembly committee was dilatory. Senator Cantor suggested that it might be discourteous to the Assembly to investigate their celling. Senator Sioan thought that the Senator After further debate, in which several Senators put themselves on record as being in favor of honesty in public works and of stringent economy, the resolutions were passed without the part instructing the Commission to investigate the ceiling. Senator Murphy voted against the resolution as he said that he was opposed to anything encouraging the contract system on public works.

Senator Grady made his first speech in the Senate this morning. The occasion was a joint resolution providing for the printing of 10,000 copies of the Conkling memorial exercises for the use of the recorters and officials of the Legislature. Senator Grady asked why the State officials were not to receive some copies. He thought that if the reporters and officials of the Legislature should not snub the State officials by refusing to give them any. Senators Fassett and Raines opposed giving any to the State officials by refusing to give them any. Senators Fassett and Raines opposed giving any to the State officials of the Legislature.

THRRE IN A CAB.

An Assorted Cargo from East Fourteenth Street in the Early Morning.

Policeman Rogers of the (Union Market equad heard screams in a closed cab at Avenue B and Tenth street at 5 o'clock yesterday morning, and running to the cab door saw a flashily dressed woman kicking franti-cally and shouting. There was no driver on the box, and Rogers got up and drove toward the station house. A little furher down the block he overtook Patrick O'Leary, the driver, who had left his place on the box to follow two men, who had got out of the cab a few minutes before, leaving the the box to follow two men, who had got out of the cab a few minutes before, leaving the woman.

O'Leary went around to the station house with Foliceman Regers, and told the Sergeant that the men, one of whom he said was Dr. Quirk, a physician at 149 Avenue B, hadn't paid him his fare for bringing them from Third avenue and Fourteenth etreet. He said the woman had knocked a man down at Thirteenth street and Third avenue and then got into the cab with Dr. Quirk and his companion.

The woman told the Sergeant that she was Mary Holland, and that she lived at Sixth avenue and Fifteenth street. She had another how in the station house, and was put into a padded cell in Bellevue Hospital.

Dr. Quirk said yesterday afternoon that he had relused to pay Cabman O'Leary because O'Leary had allowed the woman to get into his cab. Somebody, he said, had opened his cab door, and thrust the woman in, and O'Leary drove right ahead without being ordered to. Dr. Quirk said that he had been out with a friend at a shooting gallery in Fourteenth street. He had not been able to get out of the cab until it reached Avenue B. At that time the woman was calling for liquor. He said he had never seen her before and had no idea who she was. Dr. Quirk denied that the woman had knecked anybody down. Somebody, he said, thrust her into the cab to get rid of her.

I had intended to have a social joilification with my friend." Dr. Quirk added. but this unexpected adventure cured me of all desire for social joilifications."

Observed a sternoon for his fare. The Doctor told him to come around to-day, and thesbill would be paid.

Mr. Morton at the Capitol.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18. - This afternoon Vice-President-elect Morton visited the Capitol and held quite a levee in the lobby of the House. He was introduced to members by Representative Phelps, who afterward accompanied him to the Senate, where he was warmy greeted as he came upon the floor. The benate rules were recently amended to admit lif. Morton to the privileges of the floor, and this was his first visit since then. He will probably stay in the city several days, and spend some time at the Capitol studying the working of the Senate rules.

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Jan. 3,-The surrendered steamship Haytien Ropublic was run into by the Haytian gunboat Nouvelle Voldrouge on the night of Dec. 20. The gunboat was entering the harbor at full speed and could have steamed to her anchorage without any change of course, but when she was within 200 yards of the Haytien Republic her helm was suddenly put to port, and remained so until she struck that vessel. Then here engines were reversed, and she backed to a distance of 200 yards. She then again steamed at full speed toward the Haytien Republic, but sheered off. just missing her. The gunboat was hailed times, but no answer was made, neither did her Captain attempt to ascertain the amount of damage or offer assistance. After ascertaining the damage done, the Galena sent an armed boat's crew to the offending gunboat, where a statement was made that jamming of the tiller ropes was the cause of jamming of the tiller ropes was the cause of the collision. It is believed that it was a deliberate attempt to sink the released ship. A board of the Gaiena's officers mot the next day and a demand for investigation was made upon the Haytlan Government. The reports will be considered and redress demanded upon the return of the Gaiena from Kingston, on Jan. 9. She steamed to Kingston on Jan. 1 to coal and communicate by cable with the American Government.

On Dee, 31 Legitime offered to pay an indemnity of $100,000 to the owners of the Haytlen Republic. This will be accepted. The steamship has been turned over to her owners and will return to New York about Feb. 1, with a cargo of logwood.

The Atlas line steamship Andes, Capt, Evans, which was at Port-au-Prince on Dec. 29 and at Kingston on Jan. 10, came in yesterday. Capt, Evans says that Légitime raised a loan of $200,000 at par from Port-au-Prince merchants, and next day locked up many of those who had declined to subscribe. Capt, Evans says that the forces of Légitime and Hippolyte are about equal, and that neither side wants to fight. Légitime, he says, is now attacking 8t. Mare by land and sea. The Tousaint shelled the Thermopylean Pass there and drove off its defenders, but Légitime's troops did not dare enter. The Galena was still at Kingston on the luth, with all well aboard. She Did All the Courting.

POUGHEEPSIE, Jan. 18 .- The case of Flora C. Brown against Milan Brown came before Judge Barnard to-day, on application of plaintiff for alimony, and Mr. Brown gave his side of the story in an affidavit. He says, in substance, that she did all the courting; that he never once asked her to marry him. After dining at a restaurant here he told her he couldn't marry her. but the next morning she intercepted him while he was on his way to the depot to go home and urged a renewal of their meetings. After he got home she proposed by letter to come to Millerton and board two weeks at his expense, so that he could come and see her and got better acquainted. He pover answered the letter, but she came to Millerton and sent word to him that she was there. Brown called there a few times, and she continually urged marriage, and he finally yielded. He gave her $200 before marriage, and afterward nearly $2,000 at her urgent solicitation, she promising to return it. once asked her to marry him. After dining at While Watchman John Haley was busy in his hut at the East Sixtisth street dump at 10 o'clock yes-terday morning he saw something floating up the river on the strong flood tide that looked like a bundle of clothing. A few minutes afterward it was caught in an eddy and driven in between two stone laden scows less than twenty feet from where he stood. Then he saw that it was the body of a woman. Haiey and several of the men employed on the scows caught the body with a boat hook and found that a haudkerchief was tied over the woman's mouth.

Yesterday the body was identified by Charles Fredericks as that of his mother, Caroline, aged 56. She lived with her husband and family at 97. First avenue. Her husband, Frederick Fredericks is a plumber and lacksmith, at the same address. She had been troubled with insomnia, and had threatened to commit suicide. She left her house at 80 clock on Thursday night saying she was tired of life. No attention was paid to her remark as she had said the same thing before. She did not return and her family became alarmed. She probably sumped into the river at Pfitty-fourth street, near her home. MAHONE'S ADVICE TO THE NEGROES. Doesn't Approve of Their Thrusting

CHARLESTON, Jan. 18 .- Before leaving here ast night Gen. Mahone was waited upon by a number of the representatives of the Young Colored Republican party, which in this State is waging war against the carpet-bag or white element in the party, and who asked him to say something about the negro question in politics. Mahone advised them not to draw the color line too tightly, as it would drive off a great many Democrats who would otherwise be won over to a new political organization which would more evenly distribute party and public patronage. He was equally as plain, too, In advising that the colored element should not in advising that the colored element should act wisely, and not be improdent or unnecessarily aggressive. If they pursued any other line of conduct, in his judgment, it would be injudicious, and might prevent the could be injudicious, and might prevent the conference and the conservative whites in the South. It is not approved of by the Henublican party as a whole. There are fanatics who desire such a consummation, but mone others. In unity of sentiment with the largor and more fiberal element of the Republican party, I do not approve of any such pretension. In fact, to be candid, I regard such a proposition as toe absurd to enter to any appreciable degree into the factorage of the political situation. There will be no colored man in Harrison's Cabinet. The time for that has not yet arrived. I don't approve of colored men thrusting themselves forward as caudidates for prominent positions. However correct it may be in American clitzenship and in the ultra Republican creed for such candidacy, it is wrong in policy just now. The colored men is entitled to all the rights that properly pertain to him but his pince is not at the extreme front yet. My advice is for the colored people to address their energies and enterprise to industrial and educational exigencies until such time as they shall be undoubtedly qualified for the higher places of trust and emolument. NEW PARKS AWARDS CONFIRMED. Rights of Suburban Railroads to Their

Routes to be Settled Hereafter. There remains only one objector to the awards made by the New Parks Commis-Company, which is dissatisfied with an award of $500,000 for five acres in Bronx, Crotons. and St. Mary's Parks, over which the compagy's engineers have surveyed a route in acordance with the plans of the Rapid Transit Commission. The awards came up yesterday before the General Term of the Supreme Court on a motion that they be confirmed. Mr. Franklin Bartlett, for the city, asked for an adjournment, saying that he was not prepared to at once proceed with the argument, an adjournment, saving that he was not prepared to at onee proceed with the argument, Ex-Judge Tappan, for the property owners, objected to waiting for their awards until the Suburban's objection is disnosed of.

Presiding Justice Van Brunt said that his associate, Justice Barrett, had suggested confirming the report of the Commission and depositing the half million in bank to await legal decision on the Suburban's objections.

Mr. Burton N. Harrison, for the railroad, objected, but Mr. Bartlett announced the city's willingness to acquiesce in Justice Barrett's suggestion.

Mr. Harrison said that to confirm the report would destroy his client's rights. The road would be ruined and its property Irrevocably taken, though it had been understood that railway routes through park sites would not be affected. He said the property was already condemned to another public use than a park, and it could not be diverted from that usa.

Mr. Charles P. Daly said that the Legislature had absolutely taken the property for the parks, and that the rights of the railroad company went with the rest. Mr. Joseph H. Wood renewed Mr. Harrison's argument. The new parks act, he said, virtually built a Chinese wall across this section of the State from Long Island Sound to within a few feet of the Hudson River.

Mr. Bartlett maintained the legality and propriety of the Commission's proceedings, and asked that its report be confirmed.

The Court confirmed the report, subject to the rights of the railways. Further argument upon this branch will be heard on Feb. 15.

ty is only seven years old, and that college women after they get married are rather hard to get into the awing of college society work. The association has branches in Washington, Philadelphia, Boston, and Bastimore. The members in and near San Francisco and in the far West are gathered in what is called the Pacific branch; and those living in this town and Brooklyn and Jersey are grouped in the New York branch. The association at large has a meeting annually and the local bodies mest more frequently. Any graduate of a university or college or scientific school belonging to the association may become a member of the Collegiate alumns by virtue of her degree. The society selects some work of an educational kind and attends to it through the year. In some, of course, the assignment will only be generally observed. But in the main the branches are carrying along the ideas imbued in college days and many of the younger women, without family cares, are engaing themselves attentively to public schemes of education and philanthropy.

Chaffee's Sister Can't Find Him.

The sister of ex-Policeman Lincoln E. Chaffee, who was dismissed for drunkenness and cruelty to a boy cripple, called at Police Headquarters resterday and asked what had become of Chaffee. She couldn't find him, she said, and she believed that there was a find him, she said, and she believed that there was a police conspiracy to keep him away from his wife and children at Eris. Pa. Sergant Price told her that the police knew nothing of Chaffee's whereabouts. On the day Chaffee was tried he was found pacing inspector Williams's office with his hand on a revolver in his hip pocket. Inspector Williams took the pistol from him. Chaffee's sixter knew of this occurrence, and she said that at the Tombs they told her that Chaffee was looked up there on the charge of attempting to assassingte Inspector Williams.

FRIDAY, Jan. 18.

The advocates of lower prices are beginning to assume toward the stock market an air of ownership. They were a little timid yesterday, but to-day regained their courage. They derived a great deal of confidence from a de-cline of over 2 F cent. in Atchison and of nearly 1% & cent, in Missouri Pacific and in Rock Island. To-day's compaign was directed almost entirely against the Southwestern stocks, and was based upon the vulnerable stocks, and was based upon the vulnerable condition of the Atchison Company. The worst feature about the condition of the Atchison Company is that no one, except possibly a very small and secretive circle, knows what the financial condition of the concern really is. The public are in the dark both as to the earnings of the entire system and also as to its liabilities. There has been some talk lately that the company was preparing for its shareholders a comprehensive and detailed statement of its affairs. The sconer such a statement is compiled and given to the nublic the better, providing of course that it tells the whole truth about the com-

that it tells the whole truth about the company. There are times when uncertainty regarding a property is more detrimental to its credit than its actual misfortunes would be if they were known.

The current report about Atchison to-day was that some difficulty had been encountered in setting certain of the subscribers to the $1,00,000 of second mortgage collateral trust notes that were authorized a while ago to take the properties of the weet that the proportion of the new securities. It is much more likely that if there is any basis for the property that they were not infine about when they made their subscriptions. It is much more likely that if there is any basis for the report it arises from efforts to place the remaining $3,00,000 of the issue. The indications are that the Atchison Company is going to have all it can attend to in the way of financiering for the next year or two, or until new lines become self-sustaining.

To-day's solling did not look like liquidation, but rather like an important onslaught in the bear campaign that has been in progress all the week.

The movement in Mi-souri Pacific seemed to be of the same character as that in Atchison, but there is this difference between the two properties, that there is a disposition on the part of a good many dealers to look for a point in the market for Atchison at which the stock may be a purchase, whereas the secrecy with which the operations of the Missouri Pacific company are hedged in is constantly turning the current of speculation away from the stock. While Mr. Gould is into his confluence, he dailing any one into his confluence, he dailing any one into his confluence, he can always apportunities to chiose. However, the stockholders will have an opportunity, as they had last spring in the case of Missouri, Kansas and Texas, to discover how aby he has pro-tected his cwn interests.

Outside of the Southwest and his motive for becoming a party to the recent agreement to maintain rates was not because he telt compeled to spell to the pressure of
